

Before the Beginning.

Before the beginning, there was nothing. This nothingness was known as Nihl. As there was nothing, nothing as everything, so nothing was everything and was known as Pamaya. Pamaya created the CREATOR.

The Nigh-Almighty Three

The CREATOR then created the Nigh-Almighty Three (no one and nothing anywhere ever is almighty, except debatably Jay, it is unknown of her).

- Gojay the High One of all High Anodevines and the Most High (highest Heaven)
- Shajam , the Low One of all Low Anodevines and the Most Low (lowest Hell).
- Omegidin, destined to start the Omega that happens AFTER Ragnarök, Apocalypse of John, ect.

Jaeltray (she/he) comes from the blue section of the CREATOR's left eye.

Creation of the Most High.

Gojay created The Most High Place out of the skin of the CREATOR's body. They made a model out of its clayish skin. This model was not the first human, but in fact the first god.

This god was called Primous. All other gods created by Gojay are Anodevines and the onodevine gods of mythologies are created by their creation stories.

Primous adopted Jaeltray because they took a liking to her as he was a young child despite being one of the First.

Creation of the Most Low.

Shajam went to the bottom of the Universe and sat. Blood dropped down from the dead body of the CREATOR, spilling onto Shajam. Shajam made this blood into Hell.

A horrible, fiery, burning abyss of fallen heavenly fire. It was there that Shajam assumed their form of a Dragon covering all of the Most Low.

Creation of Realms.

Many realms were created by different gods, one of which being the Geoverse, created by a god called Zekeriah (from the Big Bang). This Geoverse would one day become the home to Earth, which, contrary to popular Earthling scientific belief, is actually the centre of the universe in a way (geocentrism), but of course its not physically even in the Geoverse, rather its existence influences the entire universe in weird and unquestioned ways (abstract geocentrism, theogeocentrism, geotheocentrism, divine geocentrism, theological geocentrism, ...). Another realm, called the Everlasting Wilderness, was created by Primos. Near infinite (might be infinite, we don't know) others were created then, later, and formed naturally.

Fall of Jaeltray and Demayl

One time, Gojay, was out in the Fields of Zar when they met someone who called themself Hak. This "Hak" was an Aspect of Shajam, who liked Gojay. Gojay and Hak got to know each other and fell in love.

At this point Hak had good intentions and wanted to be good but knew that Gojay would not accept them as they were, simply because they were the "Most Low One". They slept together and lived together for a good long time. At one point, Hak told Gojay that they were pregnant. They were very exited and wanted to name the baby "Demayl" (she/her). When Demayl was born, Goja noticed that she had a Low Mark on her back, which represented demons. Gojay was confused and asked Hak why Demayl had this mark. Hak confessed that they were an aspect of Shajam. As everyone, even Gojay, are flawed, they got mad that the Mother of Hell was in their bedroom. They shouted and Hak fell. They fell all the way back down to the Most Low. Gojay immediately regretted what they had done, but alas, that aspect of Shajam was gone and only the insane Shajam was to be found in Hell.

Shie (/shy/) adopted Demayl.

When Demayl first saw Jaeltray she fell in love with him. Jaeltray also fell in love with her. They both enjoyed living together for many years (millennia? Its hard to tell time in the Most High especially pre-fall), but it was getting boring. You may wonder how the Most High could ever be boring, but the reason it was, was simply because they were both nigh-omnipotent and did not have any suffering at all, which sounds amazing, but they did not see a reason to continue in this place without a challenge. So, one day, they both decided to just jump. Yeet themselves of into the Edge of the Most High. They fell down into a section of the Everlasting Forest, but they fell far apart. Demayl went completely insane, guided by her Low Mark. Jaeltray fell far away from Demayl and spent the time fighting off chaos/traditional demons. One day, after who knows how long (millennia? Million years? Who knows?), Jaeltray was captured by a demon tribe who took him to their Queen.

OH! MORTAL Kneel in front oU me! (Jaeltrai?????????)

“what?”

Nothing.

“I am Jaeltray”

Jaeltray ! “I have missed you so much! Many years, the Low Mark took over me!”

Jaeltray and Demayl embraced one another. The demons switched their alliance to Demayl and Jaeltray.
